reservoirs full almost to overflowing; a few minutes later I was at Artesian l'ark and found eight artesian wells closed down.

Now, Mr. Mayor, did you ever hear of such a condition existing in our city before? Just think of it, the reservoirs full to overflowing, eight artesian wells closed down and at the same time practically all of our citizens were suffering for water. What may we expect in July and August?

Do you think it fair and just to punish all of our citizens because a few work and our citizens because a few work. ish all of our citizens because a few "water hogs" violate the sprinkling

Committee Being Used to Discredit Him

Utah Headquarters, Great Northern Hotel, Chicago, June 9.—Resignation of Senator Reed Smoot from the Re-Ogden, Utah.

I read your letter of June 7th (Ogden Standard-Examiner) in which you pay your respects to the "Water Hog." In the opinion of the writer the "Water Hog" is not responsible to an alarming degree for the shortage of water.

I was at the city reservoir at ten o'clock this morning and found both reservoirs full almost to overflowing, a few minutes later I was at Artesian l'ark and found eight artesian wells closed down.

In Ernest Bamberger the Utah delegates found a man who is able in every respect and a man who has the party interest at heart. There is no reason whatever why particular significance should be attached to this change by the "antileague faction."

"The Lodge plan will win," Senator Smoot told delegates and others at Itah headquarters this evening during the short recess taken by the commitce for dinner. Senator Smoot plainly shows stress of his convention activity.
